Highway work being resumed

Highway and other major construction work is resuming today in this region after agreement was reached Friday to suspend a 12 Counties Southwestern Illinois Laborers District strike for 30 days.

The work stoppage began Aug. 4, four days after the previous contract expired. In recent days, it had become difficult for the district and Southern Illinois Builders Association to meet for bargaining, due to a series of court orders related to an internal union dispute.

GRANITE CITY and East St. Louis Laborers Local 397 and 398 won temporary court orders restraining the District Council from negotiating for them.

With the international president ordering the council into trusteeship last week because of the unresolved issue with the locals, Trustee Wilbur Freitag of Springfield has become active here.

Freitag has taken over some of the duties of Hugo Schewe, the district business manager at Edwardsville.

ABOUT $1 BILLION in construction has been delayed, including work on Interstate 255.

The decision to resume work was made during a two-hour meeting in Collinsville. Federal mediator Bill Weir conferred with the contractors' group and union representatives.

Some bargaining is expected to take place during the 30 days, along with intensified efforts to determine whether the locals have the right to continue bargaining for their members.

INTERNATIONAL PRES. Angelo Fosco of Washington ordered the locals in May to let Schewe be their negotiator, but there is speculation now about the prospect of a compromise.

Some contractors have signed new laborer contracts independently of the SIBA.

Most of this area's craft unions have reached 1984 agreements with the SIBA.

School openings near

By SUSANNE INDELICATO of the Press-Record

Silent school halls soon will be filled with the slam of locker doors, the sound of class bells and the murmur of youthful voices when summer vacation draws to a close. Quad City area school officials are preparing for initial classes, most next week and some the following week.

Public schools in Venice, Madison and Granite City are scheduled to open to students on Tuesday, Aug. 28, for half-day sessions. Those schools are to begin full-day classes Wednesday, Aug. 29.

VENICE HIGH SCHOOL students will report to the cafeteria at 9 a.m. Aug. 28 for an orientation, followed by 30-minute class sessions. Students will be dismissed at 12:15 p.m. and there will be no cafeteria service that day.

After the students are dismissed that day, Superintendent Robert N. Vickers will address a district-wide faculty meeting at 1:15 p.m. in the Venice school gymnasium.

Venice High officials anticipate an enrollment of 155 students for the 1984-85 school year. For further information on the semester opening, interested persons may call the high school office at 452-5348.

THE BUS SCHEDULE for Venice

Elementary School pupils for the half-day session Aug. 28 shows pickups for fourth through eighth grade children at 9:10 a.m. and arrival at the school at 9:30.

The bus will pick up Venice kindergarten through third grade pupils at 9:40 and reach the school at 10:40 a.m. for kindergarten through third grade students, and at 11:50 for fourth through eighth graders.

Full-day sessions for Venice elementary pupils beginning Aug. 29 will be as follows: 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. for kindergarten, 8:30 a.m. to 2:45 p.m. for first through fourth

Brimberry healthy but marriage isn't

Thomas Brimberry, 41, a former Granite Cityan who was imprisoned after the Six & Co. stock brokerage collapse, is not starving himself, Warden D.J. Southernland confirmed Friday.

But his marriage is not healthy. Janice A. Brimberry, 37, filed a petition Friday at the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville seeking a divorce. Mental cruelty is charged and she seeks custody of their daughter, 14, and two sons, 10 and 8 years old.

Federal authorities have said they will not prosecute Mrs.

Tax loan for parks

By DONNA KIMBRO of the Press-Record

Due to the economic recession and late real estate tax collection, the Granite City-park district took steps to obtain a tax loan Thursday night. George Sykes, president of the park board, signed papers for the first anticipation warrant in the amount of $25,000, prior to a special meeting.

THE FUNDS will be used for the weekly payroll. Although the commissioners are attempting to keep within a rigid budget, they will probably have to secure another $10,000 in anticipation of taxes at their meeting Wednesday night, the president said.

Collection of annual taxes is expected to take place in September. Primarily, the meeting was held to discuss construction of a new Wilson Park swimming pool and view the first drawings of the facility proposed by Hastings and Chivetta, Architects and Planners, a St. Louis firm.

A SPOKESMAN for the firm told the three board members present, Nancy Sanders, Pres. Sykes and Barry Loman, that he will have a cost estimate of the entire project prepared by S. M. Wilson & Co. at no cost to the park district.

"The projection on the cost of the pool that I have submitted is just an estimate and I would also like to pre-

Japanese techniques aiding yield, quality at GC Steel

The Japanese merger with National Steel Corp. already is being felt at the Granite City Steel Division as more than 100 of 430 specific recommendations by the Japanese have been implemented and another 286 are being planned for implementation or are being studied further, according to the latest issue of The Mill, the in-house magazine of Granite City Steel.

In June, National Steel Corp. sent a team of 19 people to Japan, including five from GC Steel. Their task was to follow up on a thorough report on yield improvement ideas presented by Nippon Kokan K.K. personnel in January. Nippon Kokan (NKK) is the giant steelmaking company in Japan which has purchased 50 percent of National Steel.

GC STEEL personnel touring NKK facilities in June were John Bell, Don Muskopf, Greg Kotys, Dave Evans and Fred Frange. The group was led by Don Simmons of the Pittsburgh headquarters. Others touring NKK were from Great Lake and Midwest Steel and National Steel Research.

They visited NKK's Fukuyama and Koshin Works to clarify information and observe operations related to the various recommendations.

Operational areas under study were steelmaking and slab production, hot strip mill and hot roll finishing and cold rolling and finishing, according to The Mill. The report on the group's visit to Japan was given to National Steel officials in Pittsburgh in late July.

LAST FALL, NKK personnel visited National Steel's operations, including Granite City, and submitted the 430 specific recommendations for improving yield at National's steel plants.

Prior to the June trip to Japan by the National team, 113 of the recommendations already had been implemented. The recommendations were for better iron skimming, reduction of pit scrap, better slab rolling methods, improved blast furnace chemistry, adjusted charge calculation in the basic oxygen furnace (BOF), minimized BOF slag and cleaner steel, increased mold maintenance and improved tundish insulation, the official GC Steel magazine said.

Kotys, hot roll finishing superintendent, said he was impressed by the Japanese steelmaking facilities and the attitude of the NKK personnel. "We couldn't believe how clean their plant areas were — even bathroom, with trees and flowers. And the NKK people all

Year-old community college center here called a success

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH of the Press-Record

Avery Schermer, chairman of the Bellevue Area College Board of Trustees, termed the one-year birthday of Granite City Center a "dream come true" Friday. He spoke at a special celebration at the local college center, formerly Granite City High School North.

Schermer, who spearheaded the idea of opening a community college attendance center in Granite City, said the first year turned out better than anyone had expected. "While I was sure a college center would succeed, board members had a few misgivings about the idea," he related. "They said they would give it two years — allowing it to lose up to a total of $500,000 — but then it would have to stand on its own.

NOW, THERE IS no doubt in anyone's mind that the popular college is meeting a need and will be able to stand on its own financially, the gathering was told.

Schermer thanked various groups that helped make the center a success. "First, I'd like to thank the students," he said. "It would have been easy for them not to come, because the school had no 'track record'."

"But now we have a good track record — in fact, there were few percent more credit hours taken than were originally forecast for the center," Schermer noted.

HE ALSO THANKED the Granite City school district. "Without the cooperation of Unit Nine, nothing would have gone on," he said. "They made the facility available on reasonable terms."

Also praised were the citizens of Granite City. "The people have proved that the opening of Granite City Center is the biggest event, community-wise, that has happened here," he said. "There has been no segment of the community that has not helped."

He cited help given to the center by Mayor Paul Schuler, the Tri-

Growth of Port continuing

The Tri-City Regional Port District, which will be celebrating its 25th anniversary on Aug. 25, has made great progress since it began, officials believe.

From a slow start in 1959, the port has grown steadily and is today recognized as the leading port in the St. Louis Metropolitan Area and in much of the Midwest.

PORT LEGISLATION was signed by Governor William G. Stratton in 1959. The first board was appointed that year and Commander (retired) John L. Barron was hired as the port's general manager. The first Illinois state appropriation was also received that year.

The early 1960s were a struggle. The port signed its first of many land leases with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and began building a dock access roadway.

In 1964, Gov. Otto Kerner officially dedicated the port. The first shipment passed through it that year.

Also in 1964, the port district named the first street in its industrial center Harris Avenue, in appreciation of the legislative leadership provided by State Representative Lloyd "Curly" Harry of Granite City.

THE YEAR MARKED the port's first bond issue. The port constructed its first facility — a liquid bulk terminal with storage tanks and a dock access rail line — and leased the facility to National Marine, the district's first tenant.

In 1969, the port district signed a land lease with Bulk Service Corp., which built a dry bulk product handling facility and a 60,000-ton fertilizer warehouse. The port staff also moved into its first offices located at the port. Bulk Service's staff shared the modular units with port employees.

In December 1969, the Bulk Service Corp. warehouse was destroyed by fire. It was rebuilt and began operating in October 1970, only to be destroyed by fire again in 1971.

APEX OIL COMPANY in 1973 purchased the National Marine facility and expanded the operation. Flood waters rose to an all-time high, surrounding the port's office and temporarily shutting down port operations.

The district purchased the south harbor dock facility in 1975 from the Bi-State Development Agency. The facility is now leased to Granite City Steel and Granite City Terminals Corporation.

With Bi-State accepting regional port planning duties, that agency left the harbor business and Tri-City Port now has jurisdiction over the entire harbor area near the southern end of the eight-mile-long Chain of Rocks Canal, the Mississippi River's official shipping channel.

Kusmierczak tells of year as a Senate page

Steve Kusmierczak, a Senate page last year for U.S. Sen. Charles Percy (R-Ill.) recalled his experiences of last year during the Granite City Optimist Club's regular meeting Thursday afternoon.

Kusmierczak called the Senate "the greatest legislative body in history." On the other hand, his assessment of the House of Representatives was "a mess," due to leadership changes and other factors.

Kusmierczak said he feels it is a true honor to be a Senate page, an honor few receive. Most of the year, there are only 18 Senate pages and only 15 are allowed on the Senate floor. Kusmierczak was not only one of the 15 on the floor, but advanced to the position of head floor page.

As head floor page, he said, the Republican senators reported to him when they were leaving the floor and Kusmierczak had to reach them when important votes were coming up. If they didn't respond to a beeper, it was his job to call them and inform them of the vote. If they could not be found, pages had to be sent out to try and find them.

He said pages had to learn to identify all of the senators and, if a senator was found napping, "if he was a Republican, you were to wake him for the vote. If he was a Democrat, don't wake him. We (the Republicans) don't want him to vote," he said.

One exception was Sen. Barry Goldwater, who, upon being awakened once by a page, was annoyed and punched the page. "We were told never to wake Sen. Goldwater," Kusmierczak recalled.

His first term as a page was not too exciting, he said. Most of his official duties were "menial tasks," such as running messages and operating the cloak room. His term was to have ended this January, but he was asked to remain as the head page and accepted.

"I was lucky to stay on the entire year," Kusmierczak commented.

As head page, he had to keep track, not only of senators, but of motions, bills, votes, amendments and upcoming votes. Every Tuesday, he joined the senators and Vice President George Bush in the Mansfield Room for caucuses.

Although he liked President Ronald Reagan several times and even had lunches with the president, Kusmierczak said Reagan seldom came in the Capitol.

The image of pages was furnished a few years ago when a House page alleged that there were sexual contacts between pages and representatives, he noted. Since then, the House and Senate pages were separated, with separate schools and dormitories and the age of all pages was set at 18, rather than the former age range of 12 to 18. Kusmierczak, the first page ever from Granite City, said a Senate page's day is a long one. They were awakened at 5 a.m., went to school in the Library of Congress at 6 and were in the Senate at 10 a.m. Senate sessions normally lasted until about 6 p.m., but sometimes went all night, Kusmierczak said.

After dinner, the pages normally had three to four hours of study and preparation for the next day before retiring at 11 p.m. or later. The routine started at 5 a.m. the next day.

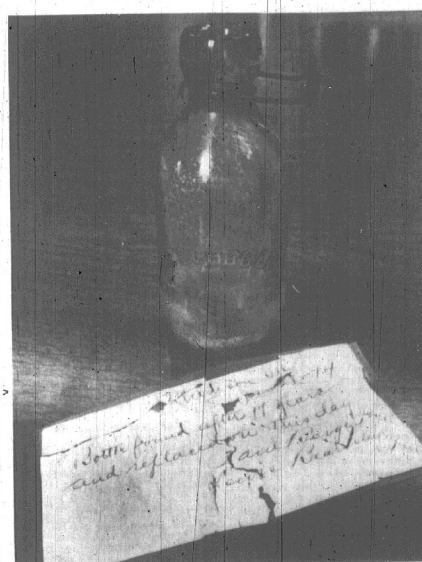

School consisted of approximately 20 students taught by four professors from Georgetown University. Tuition is paid by the Senate.

Senate pages got an annual salary and most of their expenses are paid, so most of them have an opportunity to save money for their college educations.

Weekends are primarily spent visiting Washington landmarks, primarily the museums.

Coming home was difficult, he said. He passed up an opportunity for another paying job in the Senate and continued schooling, "because I believe it was my job to learn how the government operated and bring that back to the community."

"It was a great experience. You're there with the most important people in the world. They are legislating for our lives," Kusmierczak explained.

CENTURY-OLD BOTTLE, which fell from a wall near the front porch of a house being demolished at 1635 Fifth St., Madison, contained a well preserved note dated Jan. 28, 1914, stating "Medison, Ill. Bottle found after 17 years and replaced on this day. Paul Berger, owner, Lewis Beardsley, carpenter." The Hutchinson stopper was damaged while trying to remove the note, Madison Police Officer Gary Marsala said. The thick blue glass bottle, probably made in the 1880s, is impervious to the words "Geo. Schroeder East St. Louis, Ills. This bottle is never sold." Its original contents still remain a mystery.

Farm combines set for demolition derby

DeQuoin State Fair will hold its first Combine Demolition Derby, Tuesday, Aug. 28 at 8 p.m. "Plenty of smashing action is guaranteed as massive combines slug it out on the front straightaway of the magic mile track," according to a fair spokesman.

"A marathon of mechanical madness, a Combine Demolition Derby gives work-out implements an opportunity to go out in a blaze of metal crunching glory, rather than an ignoble lump of rust. It is the farmer's revenge on combines," he added.

The sport's motto, as expressed on T-shirts sold by promoters, is "They used to use 'em for thrashing, now they use 'em for smashing."

Combine demolition derbies featuring combines that have long since shed their last ear of corn will become a more familiar sight throughout the Midwest in coming years, predicts promoter Oliver Schaefer, who brought the North Dakota-originated entertainment attraction to Illinois.

All seating for the Combine Demolition Derby is reserved. Tickets are $7. For ticket orders and information, interested persons may write or call the DuQuoin State Fair Ticket Office, Post Office Box 191, DuQuoin, Ill. 62832, telephone 1-542-$495. Visa and Mastercard phone orders are accepted.

A correction to the 1984 Fair brochure: Combine Demolition Derby is Tuesday, Aug. 28, not Aug. 29.

Dancers perform at World's Fair

The Polish Roman Catholic Union of America Slawa Polish Dance Troupe is performing today, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the World's Fair in New Orleans, La.

Sarich and PRCA Slawa Polish Dance Troupe Director Regina Forsys have been working with 24 young people in two groups.

The group, which is based at 826 Greenwood St. in Madison, also performed during the Illinois State Fair in Springfield last week.

The warden told the Press-Record that no prisoners there are on a hunger strike, despite numerous reports that Brimberry was rejecting meals. "You're the 14th person to call me about this," Southerland said. Tentative blueprints showed the pool to be situated in a north and south direction with an overall size of 50 x 164 feet. Depth of the water would be from approximately three feet at the shallow end to 15 feet at the deep end.

There are to be about 16,000 square feet of deck area to coincide with a state requirement, and a waiting pool for young children.

NEW LOCKER ROOMS and dressing areas for both women and men are to feature 570 lockers on each side.

The locker rooms are to be used also by ice hockey players during their season, Sykes said.

Minor changes and cost estimates for deleting some areas and adding other phases of the project will be completed and presented to the board Wednesday night.

New law on missing children

A law signed Friday provides $1,850,000 for a program that Quad-City-area law enforcement agencies will use to speed up efficiency in disseminating data on missing, runaway or abducted youngsters.

The Illinois Missing Child Recovery Act authorizes the Department of Law Enforcement to coordinate formation of local Illinois State Enforcement Agencies to Recover Children (I-SEARCH) units. The state will make grants for up to 50 percent of their operating budgets.

These units will respond immediately to a report of a lost or missing child. Their work will include compiling, maintaining and distributing pertinent information to law enforcement agencies in Illinois and other states, greatly increasing the likelihood of locating a child. The units also will train youngsters and parents on the dangers facing runaways.

The new law authorizes use of the Law Enforcement Agencies Data System (LEADS) to compile missing children reports and send regional or statewide alerts when circumstances indicate the possibility of foul play or abduction.

As Gov. James R. Thompson commented at the signing ceremony, "Being the father of a six-year-old, I cannot imagine a more horrifying experience than having my daughter disappear. The anguish felt by the family of an abducted child is something any parent can identify with, and the feelings of helplessness and fear are no less painful for the families of runaways."

All these cases must be handled expeditiously. If we believe that every child is precious, we must ensure that every missing child will be sought as quickly as possible.

We look forward to the prompt creation of an I-SEARCH unit in this area.

Service by 25 in 25 years

The honor roll of commissioners serving the 25-year-old Tri-City Regional Port District is long and distinguished.

The 25 include seven charter board members—Harold R. Fischer, Henry D. Karand, Jeff William L. Beatty, Harry E. Hartman, Austin Lewis, Joseph Grant and Carl Rant. Present commissioners are Chairman Melvin C. Wilmseyer, Secretary Homer Huber, Treasurer Dale Arnette, John N. Belcoff, Howard Silas, Walter "Buck" Simmons and Kent Holsinger.

Others who have served on the port authority board are Donald Partney Jr., William L. Harris, Carl E. Mathias, Harold E. Hillmer, Avery Schermer, Van Dee Cruse, Burton C. Bernard, Clyde "Buster" Boyd, Lance Callis, William Eberstadt and Herbert Bischoff.

The quality of their efforts is attested to by the steady and sound growth in port facilities, services, shipping, storage, processing and employment.

Major tenants and operators are Apex Oil Co., Bulk Service Corp., Granite City Steel, Granite City Terminals, International Minerals & Chemicals, I.S. Joseph Co., Norfolk & Western Railway, Fox Industries, Art's Plecting Service and Curtis Agency.

In the words of Carl Rant, general manager, "With proper planning and execution and continued local, state and federal cooperation and assistance, the Port will continue to develop and create jobs for this metropolitan area and the vast Midwest region the district serves."

"We are continuing to create a hub in the transportation world, providing all modes of shipping to move goods to their markets by the least costly, most modern methods."

Applications submitted for housing

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

The Madison County Housing Authority has submitted applications with the Department of Urban Development for almost $3 million in Housing Development Grants to help pay for median- and low-income housing in Madison and Venice.

According to Madison County Housing Authority Executive Director Bert Hampton, the grant application seeks $1.7 million to rehabilitate the old Madison Junior High School building at the intersection of Third Street and Alton Avenue. Hampton says the converted building, to be named Madison Manor, would provide housing for the elderly.

The application also seeks funding for two new construction projects in Venice. Hampton said that another $1.7 million is requested for Venetian Court East, to be constructed on property adjacent to Venice Homes on South Fourth Street. That project, he noted, would provide 40 units, 20 of which would be for elderly housing while the remaining 20 units would be townhouse, non-elderly units.

The other new project, Venetian Court West, would be constructed across from Bissell Street Apartment ments at a cost of $2.5 million. That project would provide 40 one-bedroom elderly units and 20 townhouse, non-elderly units.

Hampton said that the grants are part of a new program, and this is the first time the housing authority has applied for the grant money. He added that the applications submitted to HUD last week will be in national competition, since this new program does not provide that grant funds be distributed regionally.

HUD is offering the development grants, Hampton said, to fund 40 to 50 percent of the project cost. In turn, the housing authority must guarantee that a percentage of the housing will be available to low-income individuals. Hampton estimated that about 30 percent of the proposed projects would be designated "low-income." The rest of the housing would be targeted at median-income individuals.

Last week, the Madison County Board approved the grant applications. Hampton explained that the county must apply for the grants, and if funds are granted, distribute the funds to the developer or owner in this case, the housing authority.

Hampton said the grant application lists the county nothing. In fact, he said, the housing authority hopes to recoup some of the funds through rent payments and funnel them back into county coffers.

Hampton expects HUD to make a decision on the grant applications within the next two months.

Plan Commission lists priorities

Members of the Granite City Plan Commission discussed preliminary plans to change the city's zoning ordinance at a meeting Thursday.

The group met with Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission representative Ed Crow and Realtors Carl Hoffman and Barbara Wyatt.

Plan Commission Chairman Dave Morgan said the group came up with a list of priority items for change that Crow will review. According to Morgan, those items to be reviewed include: acreage requirements for different zoning classifications which are restrictive; rezoning for convenience stores that sell liquor and gasoline; and in what zoning classification lots and abandoned buildings should be placed.

"There are a multitude of things which need to be changed," said Morgan. "The Plan Commission is attempting to keep the ordinance up to date with the times."

Morgan said after Crow makes recommendations about possible changes, a public hearing will be conducted to get input for residents. He said no future meeting dates have been set.

MCGSA signup set for Aug. 25

The Madison County Girls' Soccer Association will register girls on Saturday, Aug. 25, who wish to compete in its fall soccer league.

The registration, which is slated for a two-hour session from 10 a.m. to noon, is open to all girls ages five through 13 born in 1971 through 1979. Registration will be at the St. John's Soccer Field located at 2901 Namek Road.

Payment of fees is not necessary when registering.

The Madison County Girls' Soccer Association is the only soccer association which exclusively promotes girls' soccer.

Most recently some of its members claimed two gold medals in the first-ever Prairie State Games. In all, it's estimated that 75 percent of the members of those two state championship teams were former members of the MCGSA.

Persons seeking further information about the Aug. 25 registration or about MCGSA may call Mrs. Cooper at 876-5720.

Madison crime shows 11 percent decrease

The July monthly crime compiled by Madison Chief of Police Donald Bridick, reflects a 11 percent decrease in crime for the month, as compared to July of 1983. Fines collected for the month totaled $3,052.

Total arrests for the month, including traffic and juvenile, totaled 18. Burglaries last month included four residential, two apartments, one business, four garages and one auto.

Repairs are made at both plants, that the vegetation be moved around the plants, that a daily maintenance schedule be developed and that both plants be manned half-days during the weekends.

Greathouse told the Press-Record that the required repairs are "minor. We have spent $200,000 on repairs in the last three years."

He asserts that the deficiencies of the plants are not due to recent management, but "due to poor maintenance several years ago."

Greathouse estimates that the required repairs to both plants will cost MESD about $8,000.

EPA pushes MESD to correct defects at treatment plants

The United States Environmental Protection Agency says, "Get on with it." The Metro-East Sanitary District (MESD) responds, "We are."

That is the gist of correspondence last week between the two entities concerning repairs and maintenance of the Landsdowne and Cahokia sewage treatment plants under the supervision of MESD.

The EPA ordered MESD last May to clean, repair and maintain certain parts and equipment of its two sewage treatment facilities after an engineer's report indicated that some parts were defective and equipment needs to be cleaned and maintenance efforts need to be stepped up.

MESD Board President and Executive Director Walter "Shang" Greathouse told the board Tuesday that he received a letter from the EPA last week telling the board that it has 15 days to get the EPA of measures it is taking to comply with the order.

Greathouse said he has responded to the letter, telling the EPA that MESD consulting engineers Hurst-Ruchse of Hillsboro, Ill., are now soliciting bids to contract out the required work. He added that the requirement of soliciting bids has caused the work to be delayed.

The EPA has ordered, among other things, that cleaning and Interest could nearly double cost of bonds

two months late this year, that would cost the district $4,747,400. Compare these short-term interest costs with the long-term $627,000 for the first year.

The schools borrowed $5 million in anticipation notes July 1 to be paid in January 1986. The unused money is being invested and is drawing interest. This says nothing about the interest that the unused money is costing.

He also states the 1983-84 budget could have called a surplus budget; the education fund had $67,000 more revenue than expenditures and the building fund showed a $160,000 surplus.

If 1983-84 showed a $227,000 surplus, how does the district justify $5 million in notes, the unused portion of which is being invested?

With this surplus, and the $5 million, why should there be a $6.6 million bond issue?

Taxpayers should be credited with having more intelligence than to buy the line put forth by the district. Repayment of $5 million would cost nearly double that amount, with the long-suffering taxpayer footing the bill.

Let the district put in the newspaper a copy of the bond issue contract, to fully inform all of the public.

County Clerk Evelyn Bowles can provide anyone with a copy of the bond issue contract.

These bonds were purchased by a consortium of financial institutions, and $3 million was a larger amount than could be provided by any one of them alone.

Did the school district have such a contract in hand before its intent to finalize a "backdoor referendum attempt" bond issue was published in the Press-Record July 12?

Had the 2,588 required signatures not been obtained, we would have had, effective Aug. 12, a brand new tax. For that to be so, the district had to have a contract in hand. This was no sudden action; it required a great deal of time and planning.

If we had been caught sufficiently off-guard, as it appears may have been hoped for, we would be stuck. But once fooled, twice shy.

Bonds require repayment. Money obtained from a bond issue—to be placed in a bank for investing—are costing interest in minuscule amounts. Who is footing whom?

There is only one cure, for the school district's "ills": competent management of the taxes already authorized. These taxes already are two-thirds of each tax dollar that we already are paying annually.

Coordinated Youth Services offers programs for area juveniles

"My baby would have gone hungry without WIC, it's as simple as that," says a young mother participating in the Coordinated Youth Services program called WIC.

The CYS WIC (Women-Infant-Children) is a food assistance program that provides nutrition education and supplemental food for low income pregnant or lactating women, infants and children to the age of five. A delivery man makes scheduled deliveries of food items such as: formula, cereal, juice, milk, cheese and eggs to eligible recipients. The program offers additional food assistance to families in cases where food stamps and school hot meal programs had simply not been enough.

Nutritionist Marilyn Creekmore, an employee of CYS WIC program, is on hand to teach the relationship between good nutrition and health, and to help participants develop better food habits and make the best use of WIC foods to supplement their diets. She stresses the benefits of breast feeding to pregnant women and encourages lactating mothers toward a healthy diet.

Participants in the program learn many things — to avoid harmful reducing diets, health problems and even how to use coupons while shopping.

"WIC has been in existence for ten years nation wide and eight years in Granite City," says registered nurse Roberta Hopper, WIC Program coordinator. This year Mrs. Hopper received a regional certificate of recognition for outstanding work relating to the WIC program.

The CYS WIC is but one of numerous programs Coordinated Youth Services brings to the Granite City area. Many mistakenly think Coordinated Youth Services is only involved with youth. To the contrary, since its 1944 beginning as an organization focusing on area juveniles, the program has now greatly expanded its services.

It currently coordinates all community resources and programs. It is a type of clearing house where community residents can find help for their problems or information about services available to them. Here is a rundown of its many services:

With the CYS WIC program is Cathy Turck, a graduate social worker, who is available to provide WIC teenage parents with information regarding the Parents Too Soon Program. She gives educational counseling, needs assessment surveys and also referrals to the local Parents Plus chapter.

The local chapter of Parents Plus provides older volunteers (once teenage parents themselves) who make home visits, answer questions and advise the young parents in skills needed to raise happy, healthy children. This program also provides information on birth control, finding a doctor and health screening examinations. It teaches the young women about all aspects of pregnancy, labor and delivery, and above all gives moral support.

Also traveling with CYS WIC is Carol Gokhale, a graduate of Washington University with a masters degree in Social Work, representing the Medical Assistance Program. This program provides funds for primary medical care to the unemployed or under-employed and their families who are without medical insurance and not eligible for public aid. In June, 1984 this service was expanded to include dental and eye care, out-patient surgery, prescriptions and obstetrics.

The Layette and Baby Bed Program is operated through the Ponton Beach branch of Coordinated Youth Services under the direction of Kay Pearson, a Senior Aid employee. Individuals qualifying for this program are given a summer or winter layette, handmade and donated by the Church Women United Organization. Participants may also borrow baby beds. Another service of this department is to provide a three day emergency parcel of food.

The Family Planning Counseling Program also was established to provide clients referred by the WIC program with contraception information and education. Referrals and transportation to clinics are also provided.

Coordinated Youth Services is directed by C.A. "Bud" MacMillan. There are three branches serving the community: 1254 Niedringhaus Ave., 3910 Highway 111, Ponton Beach, and 306 Broadway, Venice. The Venice program and building is shared with the Urban League.

Local United Way contributions help make the following services and programs available:

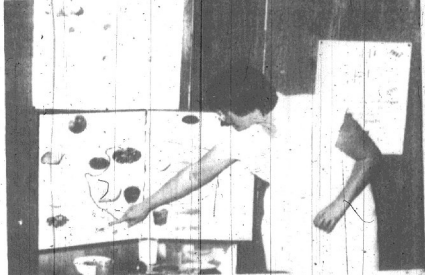

The Employment Assistance Program was created to assist the unemployed or displaced worker. Participants receive assistance in filling out applications and making preparations for interviews. They are also referred to different branches of educational and employment services in the community.

The Alternative Education Program is operated in cooperation with Granite City, Madison and Venice school districts. The program offers classes in basic academics (math, English, science) to the student who is not successfully achieving in the traditional classroom. Its eventual goal is to assist the student to return to the home school.

Coordinated Youth Services, in cooperation with Madison School District 12 and Granite City School District 9, have a contractual agreement to deal with youth who fail to attend school. Attendance Program officers' duties range from truant apprehension to home visits. They coordinate school problems, refer youth to counselors or social workers and file court petitions.

Counseling/Carework is a service provided to the individual, family or group members with the focus on personal, family and social problems. Referrals are directed to various organizations such as the Children's Home and Aid Society, Emotions Anonymous or Family Counseling Center. Medical, employment, financial and emergency assistance are also offered. The bulk of the agency's funds support direct services to individuals and families.

Also housed in the Coordinated Youth Services Social Service Building are: the Drug and Alcohol Counseling Service; is provided by Piasa Health Care with emphasis on prevention, education and rehabilitation of drug-related cases. Referrals by Coordinated Youth Services staff are also made to Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous, Ala-nah, Ala-teen, Ala-preteen, all of which have chapters in Granite City.

WIC NUTRITIONIST. Marilyn Creekmore, a nutritionist with Coordinated Youth Services, illustrates foods for a balanced diet.

Under a cooperative effort between Coordinated Youth Services and several surrounding universities, students are able to assist and observe agency programs while receiving credit hours and experience in the Practicum Student Supervision Program.

The Court Referrals Program is a cooperative effort with the courts, enabling youth owing monies to the court to work out their financial debt, while participating in a learning program. Youth receive only credit toward their court obligation.

Where the efforts of local personnel and truant officers have not been effective, referrals are made to the Madison County Truancy Alternative Program. Chronic truants are referred from the fifteen school districts in Madison County for diagnostic and intervention services for the truant and their families.

A fifteen passenger community service van is another service through the Coordinated Youth Services sponsored by the Madison County Transit District and the cooperative efforts of area social service agencies. It provides transportation, at a small fee, to clients seeking medical, employment and other temporary special transportation needs.

The Energy Assistance Program consist of two programs for low-income families one in cooperation with the Energy Assistance Foundation to weatherize homes and the other in cooperation with Madison County Community Development to assist with energy costs.

Coordinated Youth Services also provides an information and referral service to people in need of services not provided in the other programs. These vital community services are made possible by the generous support of concerned area residents. As a Tri-Cities Area United Way member agency, CYS reflects the philosophy of "People helping people."

Arrest man twice in 2-hour period

Robert C. Ripley, 27, of 3650 E. 24th St., was arrested by Granite City police last week after an incident at Geo's Lounge, 3304 Nameoki Road, where he had been asked to leave by the manager following an argument with a woman.

"Ripley went outside the lounge, but allegedly declined to leave the parking area and was seen by an officer running around the building. He was caught, charged with criminal trespass to land and was released a short time later after posting a $52 cash bond."

About 30 minutes after the first incident, Katherine Oehlcker of the 4000 block of Oakmont Drive in Ponton Beach called village police asking if an officer would meet her at her address.

It was alleged Ripley was at Oehlcker residence and the two talked briefly, with Ripley becoming upset and allegedly striking the woman. He was booked for battery and returned by Ponton Beach police to the Granite City jail.

Ripley was released four hours later upon paying a second $52 cash bond.

Driver says seat belt helped save his life

David Foote, 24, of 1738 Second St., Madison, credits his seat belt with saving his life this weekend.

Foote was driving southbound on Route 203 at the McCambridge overpass southeast of Madison Sunday morning when a yellow truck forced his car over the top of the overpass.

"I really don't remember what happened," said Foote. "All I tends to panic, which just makes things worse."

After working on the wreck for an hour and one-half, Foote was successfully removed from his car and taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He was released from the hospital about midnight.

Foote said he is very thankful to the Madison Fire Department for their rescue and he thinks his experience will help him in the future.

"I never knew how people felt when I was rescuing them," he said. "But I know now - being jammed up against the roof, you can't even feel very good at all."

Arrest man in June 29 $3,197 armed robbery

Max Leonard, 25, of East St. Louis, was transferred from St. Clair County Jail in Belleville at 4:45 p. Friday after an informational document was issued that day by the Madison County state's attorney's office, alleging armed robbery. The warrant calling for a $3,197 bond was signed by Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill.

Leonard allegedly was one of two men who robbed an employee of the Jernison Wright Corp., 906 Twenty-Second St., at gunpoint at 9:35 a.m. Friday.

The employee had just returned from a Granite City bank after cashing payroll checks for a group of workers at the plant and was preparing to distribute the money when robbed, reports said.

The stolen money, amounting to $3,197, was being carried in a paper sack by the employee.

"Arriving at the plant from the bank with the cash, the victim was getting out of a van when a man pushed a gun in his face, telling him to give him the money."

The employee being robbed yelled for help but the two men, both armed with revolvers, grabbed the sack and ran west on 22nd Street toward Illinois Avenue, where they entered a waiting vehicle.

A description of the robbers and the car was issued and a special agent for the federal Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Agency spotted a vehicle matching the report turning from Interstate 64 onto Illinois Highway 111.

The second man reportedly involved still remains at large.

had to cut the rings off the steering wheel because his hands were caught up in it," he said.

Macek said that fact that Foote works for the fire department and knows the rescue procedure helped the firemen with their duty. "It was really easier for us because he knew exactly what we were doing," he said. "Usually an accident victim tends to panic, which just makes things worse."

After working on the wreck for an hour and one-half, Foote was successfully removed from his car and taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He was released from the hospital about midnight.

Foote said he is very thankful to the Madison Fire Department for their rescue and he thinks his experience will help him in the future.

"THE BOARD FEELS it has only scratched the surface in Granite City," he said. "We believe the area can and will provide four times as many students in the future."

Pointing out that an inexpensive education is offered, he added, "We're not running a college for the elite. Our college is for all of the people. He said the average student at Granite City Center is 30 years old and takes about six credit hours a semester.

"WE HAVE A TRADITION that stay that way," Schermer said. "With the cost here about $21 a credit hour, virtually no one cannot afford to better his or her education."

"If you like what you've seen this year, I'd like to remind you of something entertainer Al Johnson used to say—'You ain't seen nothing yet.'"

Also speaking at the event were: Wilbur Trimpe, acting provost of the center; David Parbury, president of the Granite City Board of Education; Dr. Bruce R. Wissore, president of Belleville Area College; and Morris Miles, vice-chairman of the Madison County Board.

After the talks, cake, cookies and punch were served. Music was provided by the Metro East Brass, under the direction of Vicki Smolik. Tours of the center were conducted.

Growth of Port

into an agreement to provide fleet and switching of barges within the harbor.

The port took a new direction in 1977, receiving a grant of authority from the Foreign Trade Zone Board to operate a Foreign Trade Zone within the St. Louis Port of Entry.

In 1978, major new port facilities were developed and built. They included the Triple T Fertilizer terminal, which has since been purchased by International Minerals and Chemical Corp. Gov. James R. Thompson signed a $2,750,000 loan to the district to build a new dry bulk product terminal, which is now operated by Bulk Service.

I.S. JOSEPH'S petting plant was built at the port in 1978. Tri-City Port, meanwhile, continued to expand and improve.

In 1981, construction began on the port's new office complex. The $300,000 four-building is occupied by the port district staff and Bulk Service Corp.

Also during that year, Norfolk & Western Railway purchased the Illinois Terminal Railroad, which had provided rail service to the port. The purchase allowed the port to draw products from greater distances.

FOX INDUSTRIES Inc. began operations of the Foreign Trade Zone from its State Street warehouse.

The Corps of Engineers in 1982 selected a site near the port district complex as the best available to service the St. Louis area for a wide range of shipping activity. The project, now in the design stage, involves construction of another major harbor along the canal. Chrysler Corp. became a subzone of the port's Foreign Trade Zone.

In 1983, a tornado that damaged part of the Granite City area hit and destroyed the offices of Apex Oil and Charles Martin Inspectors of Petroleum and severely damaged the offices of Art's Fleet Service.

Apex built a new office building during 1983, sharing it with Art's Fleet Service.

In 1983, the port was awarded a grant of $895,000 by the Economic Development Administration to construct a new dry bulk handling facility and to improve south dock rail and roadway facilities. The "Barry Dean," a towboat owned and operated by Art's, caught fire and sunk.

The port district has applied to expand its designated Trade Zone area to an additional 320,000 square foot site, to be operated by Fox Industries.

The port is now constructing added railroad track and relocating the south dock access roadway, utilizing funds from the Economic Development Administration.

A spokesman says, "The success of the port has been due to the efforts of many groups and individuals over the last 25 years. With proper planning and execution, the port will continue to develop and create jobs throughout the Midwest."

INTERESTED PERSONS are invited to join the district in celebrating its 25th anniversary Saturday, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Attractions will include a ride on the replica of an 1830 train, a walk through a train car detailing the history of railroading, and a tour of Locks No. 27.

Marriage license fee will be increased next week

Governor James R. Thompson signed legislation Thursday to increase marriage license fees from $25 to $40 and to use the $15 increase to provide additional funding for domestic violence shelters and counseling programs.

"The added funding means survival for domestic violence shelters across the state. In numbers, we expect to help 14,000 women and children this year alone in Illinois shelters," the governor said.

In human terms, viewed in the light of individual stories of violence and tragedy, these shelters take on special significance.

"For the battered wives and displaced children who seek safety, the shelters provide a vital refuge from emotional and physical pain."

Earlier this year, the Domestic Violence Shelter Program faced a funding crisis resulting from the Illinois Supreme Court's Feb. 1 ruling. The court said $5 surcharge on divorce filings used to finance domestic violence shelters and counseling programs was unconstitutional.

Supplementary emergency funding of $800,000 was provided to the shelters by the Department of Public Aid to keep the facilities open until legislation could be drafted to provide additional funds. The increase in the marriage license fee is expected to generate enough revenue to offset the loss of revenue from the divorce filing surcharge.

Thompson will file the law Aug. 27, allowing county clerks to make an orderly transition in collection of the new fee. The law will take effect that day.

Despite resistance by Granite City Phyllis Catterston, she was robbed of her purse, cash and medication Thursday night.

Mrs. Catterston, 2441 August Ave., was working at the Ace Doran Trucking Co., 2 Fox Brothers Road, Madison, when she heard the latch to the door of her car being opened.

She went to investigate and saw a young man bent over, reaching into the car from the driver's door. Another youth was standing in front of her car.

When she approached, the man in front fled on foot. The second also tried to escape, but Mrs. Catterston noticed he had her purse.

She grabbed at the purse but was unable to get it away from him. She then grabbed the man by his hair, scratching his face, but he broke the hold.

He pushed, knocking her to the ground. She suffered leg scratches and bruises and an injury to her right hand. He fled north along Fox Brothers Road and was checking the area located her purse; $67 and four prescription medicines had been taken.

One robber was 16 to 18 in age, 5-8, chunky build, with a large Afro hair style and a chip in one of his front teeth. He was wearing a white shirt with cutoff sleeves and bluejeans. The second suspect was 15 or 16 years old, 5-6 in height, slender build, wearing dark clothing.

An officer, called to the 1200 block of Madison Avenue in regard to a beating in progress, saw a man dragging a woman down the street by her throat, beating her as he went along.

Q: The sign on bank doors which says that accounts are insured by the FDIC has always intrigued me. Could you explain what this insurance covers?

A: First, the FDIC — the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation — is a corporation, which was federally established for the purpose of protecting bank depositors against the event of an economic emergency within the banking institution. FDIC insured accounts include virtually all accounts maintained within an FDIC insured bank. This would, of course, include savings and checking accounts, but it also extends to bank certificates of deposit, money market certificates offered by banks, and individual Retirement and Keogh accounts. FDIC insurance does not extend to the contents of an individual's safe deposit box, however, inasmuch as the bank has no record of its contents. The limit to which bank accounts are covered by the FDIC is $100,000 on each account. This insurance, which is applicable only to banks, is one of the most attractive features of obtaining an IRA, Keogh Account or Money Market Certificate through your bank.

At Charlie's Granite Cityans honor Dal Maxvill

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

It started as a gathering of persons with a common desire. A desire to honor Dal Maxvill, one of Granite City's favorite sons, while simultaneously contributing to the park district's Little League baseball program.

It was the Dal Maxvill Luncheon held Friday at Charlie's Restaurant.

Those who attended the luncheon are the same ones you see at most all the youth and civic-benefiting programs. They're the pillars of the community.

LASTING slightly more than an hour and 15 minutes, the luncheon briefly featured guest speakers Willard V. "Butch" Partell, clerk of the Third Circuit Court, and Mayor Paul Schuler before master of ceremonies Leo Konzen turned the microphone over to the guest of honor.

"He's our perfect warrior, our perfect knight," Konzen said eloquently introducing Maxvill. "Dal's not from Granite City, he's with Granite City."

Before a crowd of about 100 persons, Maxvill talked about baseball in general and the Atlanta Braves' baseball brawl with the San Diego Padres last week in particular.

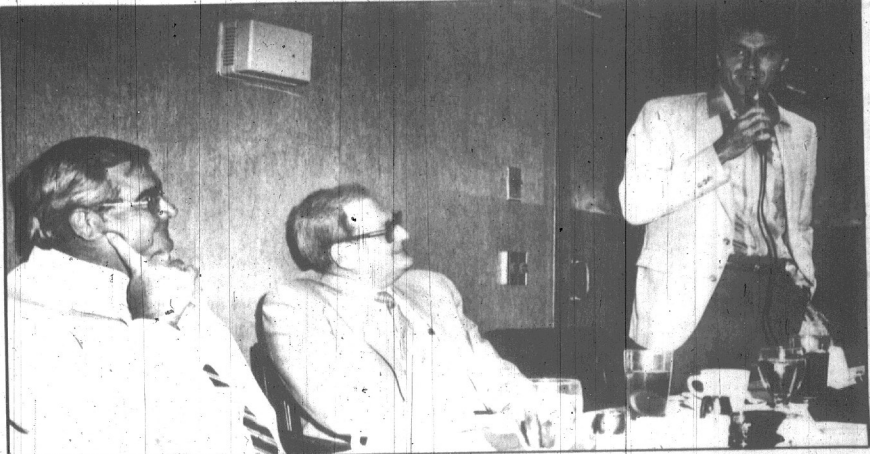

EXPLAINING his oral surgery just days after the fracas in Atlanta, Maxvill said he "lost an inlay" from eating a pizza the night before the incident. And when the media discovered that Maxvill begged out of the Hall of Fame game to have oral surgery to replace the inlay, rumors really began to fly, he said.

My friend, Joe Torre, didn't help matters either," Maxvill said. "There I was being the good guy, playing peace maker, pulling guys of each other," he said recalling his role in the incident.

"And when reporters asked why I wouldn't be at the game, Joe told them I was having oral surgery. When they asked if it was related to the baseball game, Joe simply said 'no comment,'" Maxvill said laughing.

Walking: Physical activity for the health of it

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

For the past several years a fitness craze has been making its way across the nation. Everywhere we look, advertisers and marketing personnel remind us that fitness and physical activity are the "in" thing. Now, more than ever, Americans are obsessed with staying physically fit.

One such physical activity which is increasing in popularity is walking. On any morning—early morning—numerous Granite Cityans are participating in a activity which has recently become an Olympic sport.

Walking's popularity is catching on nationally, especially in Granite City, where Wilson Park provides an excellent course. Granite City residents flock to the park for their daily ritual.

Walkers cover a large spectrum of people. Wilson Park walkers vary from age seven to 70. Early Friday morning, approximately 25 walkers tracked around the park's perimeter.

Preferences in walking styles vary almost as much as the walkers themselves. Some people said they like to walk in groups, while others prefer to walk alone. Some prefer to walk in the early mornings, while others wait to do their walking in the evening. Many of the people walk just for the exercise, but some take to the park to relieve tension built up during the day or to help them recuperate from an injury.

Distance is something else that differentiates the area walkers. Some people walk just one lap around the mile and a third distance, and then head for home or to a local fast-food restaurant, which has become a common meeting place for area walkers. Other more dedicated walkers go as many as five laps around before calling it a day.

One thing that all the walkers did agree upon was the way walking made them feel.

"It makes me feel better, physically and mentally," said walker Ann Wilson. "It lifts my spirits. It's sort of a natural high that stays with me all day."

"I really like the way it makes me feel," said Ann Kovalik, who along with Mary Ann Ramsey walks 5-6 miles a day, year round. "I feel better about myself and I do more around the house."

"If people knew what it would do for them, I'm sure more of them would come out here and start walking," added Mrs. Ramsey. Doctors are also beginning to realize that dedicated walkers have known for a long time, that walking is as beneficial, if not more helpful, than running or jogging.

Ronald M. Lawrence, M.D., medical advisor to the US Olympic Committee and the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, recently stated that because it uses so many of the body's muscles and improves the cardiovascular system, walking is the best exercise there is.

Walking is also beneficial to weight loss. The average person can burn up to 450 calories during a brisk one hour walk.

Fewer injuries are incurred while walking compared to jogging or running. When walking, a person always keeps one foot on the ground, so there is less chance of twisting an ankle or knee.

Since there is less bouncing involved in walking, you have less pounding on the soles of your feet than you do when jogging.

Walking enthusiasts also realize they do not have to set a quick pace to reap the benefits of walking. Although, the faster the pace, the faster the effects will show, even the slowest of walks is beneficial.

"After I get home from walking, I check the clock to see how long it took," said Betty Nighossian who usually walks to the park and then twice around. "I always try to make it in about an hour."

Others like to walk at a faster pace. Ann Wilson, who has lost 30 pounds since she began walking, said she prefers to walk at a faster pace.

"I always try to walk at a fast clip," said Mrs. Wilson. "I think it does more for the cardiovascular system."

Another reason several people stated for beginning to walk was retirement. After being active for most of their lives, retirement left some walkers with too much idle time.

"When I retired, I decided I would like to start walking," said 67 year old, Clella Schreiber, who walks twice a day. "I'm in good health and I'd like to stay that way."

"I go three and one-third miles everyday since the weather has been nice," said a 69 year old retired man. "I go six laps around the stadium (Granite City High School track) and then once around the park before heading home. It makes me feel better the rest of the day."

Yet another retired lady, age 63, said that she had been walking two miles a day since her retirement 18 months ago.

But walking is not just an exercise for the retired. Children and young adults are also enjoying the benefits of this activity. Some of these "newcomers" are getting started because their parents and grandparents are walkers.

Others are starting just because it looks like fun.

Ann Schreiber, a student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, said that her grandmother, Clella, got her started walking just this week.

"I used to run and jog, but this is a lot easier," said Miss Schreiber. "It really makes you feel good. You go home and you don't want to just sit down in front of the T.V. and eat."

WILSON PARK WALKERS. Mary Ann Ramsey and Ann Kovalik enjoy a brisk pace during their morning walking routine along Wilson Park's clearly worn path. Both women, who say they walk to stay in shape, walk 5-6 miles every week day, year round.

"Everyone's walking," said Mrs. Clella Schreiber. "It's just wonderful."

One reason walking has become so popular is the fact that it can be done well by almost everyone. There is no age limit. There are no weight classes. It is an activity that families and friends can enjoy together, without having to allow for differences in skill.

One problem that affects most athletes, and walkers are no different, is dedication. Even world class athletes have days where they would rather do something besides go out and train. But regardless of heat, humidity, rain or snow, walkers can be seen making their way around the park.

Although for most people it is just a way of getting their daily exercise, for some it is a crucial part of their day.

"I said to myself just the other day, why do you do this," said Violet Ruskick, who has been walking for 10 years.

"I guess it's just become a habit. It's like going to a job," she said and laughed.

Benefits Waterfowl New GC Ducks Unlimited chapter plans fund-raising banquet Sept. 13

According to Tony J. Zedolek, chairman of the newly organized Granite City Ducks Unlimited committee, persons from Granite City and surrounding areas interested in participating in a practical conservation program will be given an opportunity to do so come this fall.

As a local representative for the international waterfowl conservation organization Zedolek, said, "Where it comes to conservation, there are a lot of good people out there with good intentions who would really like to make a positive difference in how wildlife is perpetuated on this continent, but just don't know how to go about it."

Zedolek went on to say that he volunteered to help raise funds for Ducks Unlimited, because of the organization's impressive habitat track record. Since 1937, Zedolek said that this private, nonprofit organization has constructed more than 2,106 wetland projects throughout Canada—a country where over 70 percent of North America's ducks and geese are produced and where Federal Duck Stamp dollars can't be spent. As a result, Ducks Unlimited has reserved more than 3 million habitat acres and created more than 13,000 miles of crucial nesting shoreline for the waterfowl.

Concluding his remarks about the importance of DU's conservation effort Zedolek stated, "Our committee will soon be calling on conservation-minded individuals within the community to help support our DU fund-raising banquet, scheduled for Sept. 13 at the Granite City Knights of Columbus Hall. We're going to have a lot of good food, good prizes and good fun for everyone, and those who attend can rest assured the dollars we raise are going to a very good cause."

Persons seeking further information about the banquet or Ducks Unlimited may contact Zedolek at 877-2458.

Spanky's falls to Clarinda

By AL BARNES
of the Press-Record

WICHITA, KAN. — The 7-Up Spanky's lost 15-5 to the Iowa state champion Clarinda Reds here Saturday and was sent home in this double-elimination tournament of the National Baseball Congress.

The loss to Clarinda was the fifth without a victory by the Spanky's; early in the season, the Illinois team had journeyed to Iowa and dropped a quartet of games: 11-6, 4-3, 3-1 and 4-6.

Saturday's game went the same way as the earlier ones and the guy who did it in the Spanky's in all five of them was Clarinda's prodigious cleanup hitter, Paul Homerig, whose two homers in Saturday's game ran his session total to 28. The Iowans are unbeaten. In the early campaign series he had connected for a homer, a game, four in all.

Clarinda was the visiting team and quickly jumped out in front, 6-0, mostly on Homerig's grand-slam four-bagger. The blow came off of 7-Up Spanky's best pitcher, Marc Gluckman.

In their half of the opening inning, Manager Bill Stotter's Spanky's came roaring back and reduced their deficit to three runs on Keith Hoskison's three-run homer, J. V. Victorians had led off with a single and Rich Fletcher was walked and then Hoskison, who had missed Spanky's last game, smashed the first pitch by Clarinda's Tim Watkins over the stands.

Gluckman worked on the mound until the fifth when the Iowans again called upon Homerig who came through with another homer, this time a three-run shot. He ended up with seven runs batted in.

Keith Reinhardt replaced Gluckman in the fifth but had no better luck. Tim Rakers started the seventh frame on the mound for 7-Up Spanky's, but had to be relieved by Bill Huber who turned out to be the only Illinois pitcher not touched for a run by the hard-hitting Iowa team. Clarinda, ranked all season in the NBC's Top Ten, entered the tournament ranked ninth.

The Spanky's, who won the first championship of the newly formed Metro East Night League, will play Wednesday in the loop's tourney at a site to be announced later.

In Final Regular Season Game

McDonald's sweeps GC ChiefsBy CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — McDonald's coach Ray Harris was leaning against the chain-link fence behind his team's dugout at Wilson Park, enjoying his squad's 6-0 win over the Granite City Chiefs. But at the same time he was also worrying about the next game in the Inter-City League double-header.

"I'm trying to be more alert," said Harris. "Once you think a team is easy, that's when it sometimes gets to be tough. It seems like the weaker teams can give you more trouble than the stronger ones."

A few minutes later, Harris' predictions were coming true. The Chiefs, anxious to put the opening game behind them, jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the first inning. Granite City banged four hits off of McDonald's pitcher Lance Parker, who was soon taken off the mound.

But Granite City's luck didn't last for long. In game second baseman Kevin Patterson, who had never pitched for McDonald's.

However, he sure didn't pitch like a rookie. Patterson, who is easy to spot because he wears a shirt instead of a McDonald's uniform, gave up a single and a run in the second. But he held Granite City hitless for the next five innings.

MEANWHILE, McDonald's batters went to work as the team went on to earn an 11-3 come-from-behind victory in the contest. Sunday's double-header sweep put McDonald's at 23-5 for the season. McDonald's had six losses during the year, but recently had one of their losses reversed because of a league ruling that disqualified two victories by Brooklyn — an Aug. 4 win against McDonald's and an Aug. 5 win against O'Fallon. League President Earl Schardan said Brooklyn was using an ineligible player — third baseman Brian Cotton — during the victories.

"He was released from the team July 13, but he played August 4 and August 5," said Schardan. "According to our by-laws, they have to forfeit those games."

SCHARDAN said Brooklyn finished on top of the league with only four losses, followed by McDonald's with 5.

In Sunday's nightcap, McDonald's tying run came in the fifth off a long blast from left-handed hitter Tom Stegemeier. His home run to deep right field bounced on the playground at Niedringhaus Elementary School and rolled onto State street.

"That was my first home run ever," said Stegemeier, who graduated in 1983 from Granite City South. "I think it was a curve ball — I could see it spinning."

One inning later, Stegemeier drove in what proved to be the winning run. Errors by third baseman Mike Gachig allowed Steve Ficker and Patterson to get on base. A wild pitch by hurler Kenny Crawford allowed the men to advance to second and third.

STEGEMEIER then belted a ground ball to second baseman Matt Roe. Ficker scored from third while Roe threw to first for the out. "It was just trying to hit the ball on the ground preferably to one of the middle guys, the shortstop or the second baseman," said Stegemeier, who will be attending Peru State College in Nebraska this fall. He said he will try out for first base.

McDonald's added five security runs in the sixth, wiping out Granite City's hopes of a comeback. Steve Johnson, Jim Draper, Patterson and Ficker hit singles in the inning, along with a triple to right by third baseman Carl Luehmann.

Granite City coach Dennis Gurkin said Patterson's pitching dealt the loss to his ballclub.

"PATTERSON is a good player, he came through when they needed him. He pitched pretty good. We were scoring our runs off of him. But we couldn't get any more off of Patterson. He was a pretty good pitcher. Gurkin also said poor fielding hurt his team's chances of a victory. The Chiefs had three errors in the second contest and five errors in the first game.

Mike Zukas pitched the 6-0 victory for McDonald's, giving up just three hits.

"That's my best this year," said Zukas, who said he also had a four-hit and a five-hitter. "I just wish would have been like that against Brooklyn."

ZUKAS was the losing pitcher in the opening game of a double-header against Brooklyn last week.

"I just rested up this week," said Zukas. "Today, everything was work." Zukas struck out eight batters and walked five. The farthest any Granite City batter managed to get was second.

"I knew what to throw most of them," said Zukas. "I played with the Chiefs last year, plus I played with a lot of these guys in school."

Zukas, a 1982 graduate of Granite City South, said he will try out for the baseball team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

McDonald's runs came early in the game on a drive that started with two key errors by Granite City second baseman Rob Ficker. With Kevin Sykes on at first, Draper hit a ground ball to third baseman Tim Evans. When Evans threw to second for the force out, Ficker dropped the ball.

As the ball rolled toward center, Sykes took off for third. Ficker ran and picked up the ball, but made his second error as he threw wildly past third base. Sykes went on to score the first run of the day.

McDonald's added two more runs in the inning off of hits by Luehmann and Patterson. The team also scored two in the fourth and one in the sixth.

"The errors were a big difference," said Gurkin. "Zukas threw strikes and they played good defense behind him. They had some good fielding plays. They got the breaks. But a good team makes their breaks."

The losses were the Chiefs' 19th and 20th of the season in 28 contests. Inter-City League playoffs get underway next Sunday. Official pairings will be decided at a league board meeting Friday.

Sports of all SortsOne man's net gameBy AL BARNES
of the Press-Record

Starting last fall, Al Gerstenecker and I began a series of tennis matches with no holds barred and no edges given. Early on, it was at Wilson Park as the last days of autumn slowly turned from Indian Summer to cold of winter. Next, we moved inside at the Cottonwood Tennis complex up at Edwardsville.

As I recall it, we were fairly even there at the beginning. However, as we prepared to go back outside at Wilson Park, his game became better and better, and it was harder and harder for me to edge him out. I'm forced to admit that it is improved game, that is, making it harder for me to beat him. But, even harder to admit, was the fact that Old Man Age was beginning to take a cruel toll on me and my game. I was forced, at long last, to realize that I no longer can afford to give my young tennis court opponents the 50 years advantage I'd customarily given over these past years.

His game was progressing rapidly and, I'm forced to admit, at long last, that mine is lagging more than somewhat.

However, I'm glad to report that there have been days, infrequent, of course, when I've reached way back — and down — and pulled my game up to score a lot of points. And, especially once I've gotten my second wind at Wilson Park.

On this certain day, Alan and I are playing and the temperature is around 95 in the shade, which is my ideal playing condition.

I jump out to a 5-1 lead and am on a "roll" with nothing going wrong. My serves are like they're from a high-powered rifle, fast and accurate. My ground strokes are near perfection. My game at the net would do credit to a Jimmy Connors. My overhands would make Johnny Mac envious.

And, here's when it becomes tough to tell, or to write the story of the outcome of a match.

But, here's what happened, in one of the ways I could write the story. As I rush the net and brilliantly anticipate a return of Gerstenecker by a magnificent overhead smash to break his serve at "love" and making the score 5-1 in my favor, what should happen but that his car drives up.

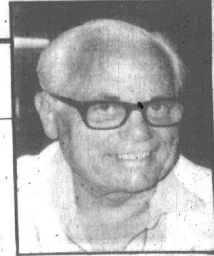

Out steps his lovely, and comparatively new bride.

I'm faced right here with a problem. Do I go on and crush him in front of his young and adoring wife?

I decide to ease up and let him win. Oh, I'd do it so that he'd never realize what I had done. So, that's what happened. He rallied to beat me, 7-5.

Now, there's another angle I could use. Since he's my "boss" in a matter of speaking, having the power to determine my assignments, etc., I decided to play a little of what the business world calls "company tennis" and let him win.

By the way Al, are we still playing today at 7?

Or, the third and the one which I'll deny to my dying day: I simply "choked up" and he rallied to beat me.

What do you think?

SPORTS EDITOR'S NOTE: Put simply, it's strange how the heat of the day can cause one man's account of a losing afternoon of tennis to waiver from the actual account.

Seriously, Al Barnes is a good tennis player for someone who's 30 and a remarkable player for someone who's 70 as he is. I can only wish that I have the systematic stroke and the accuracy of placement after I've pounded as many balls into the net as he.

Yes, Al Barnes is truly remarkable and his tennis game is equally as impressive. Although, there is something about his game which puzzles me. When given a lead — even a handsome one at that — Al has this unquenchable ability to put the game away even when given the chance.

By the way Al, are we still playing today at 7?

Soccer rules meeting set for Aug. 22

Soccer officials and coaches seeking to keep up the most recent rule changes made by the Illinois High School Association may wish to attend a meeting at Granite City High School on Wednesday, Aug. 22. According to GCIS Athletic Director Greg Patton, GCHS will host a rules and interpretation meeting in the high school gymnasium annex at 7:30 p.m. The meeting, which will be led by Hag Nighossian, is not exclusively for coaches and officials.

Interested persons wishing to attend are welcome. Patton said.

The meeting is free.

Granite City High School varsity football coach Ron Yates reminds those athletes interested in playing football this fall but have not yet attended practice that they may still do so.

"Some kids may just now be returning from a summer vacation with their parents. We just want them to know that it's not too late to come out for football," Yates said.

The Warriors began practice on Monday. Yates said athletes are welcome to tryout for all three Warrior teams — freshmen, sophomore and varsity.

Freshmen and sophomore practices are twice daily until school begins, beginning at 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Varsity morning practices begin at 7:30 a.m. and then again at 3 p.m.

his high school coach Al Lewis Sr., who was sitting near the head table, exchanged jobs.

"Al taught me a lot about baseball," Maxvill said. "He was one of the driving forces behind me."

Jumping in, Lewis joking told the guest of honor that it wasn't he who taught the four-time World Series winner to swing a bat.

"You're a great fielder, but I wasn't the one to teach you to bat," Lewis jabbed.

"That's right Al," Maxvill responded. Known as a clutch hitter, one who gets the much-needed hits with men on base, Maxvill's Major League career batting average hovers around the .200 mark.

Also attending the luncheon was Mrs. Maureen Banks, Dal's sixth grade teacher. With Dal's sixth grade photograph in hand, Mrs. Banks was obviously as excited to see the 45-year-old Maxvill as he was to be there.

The high point of the luncheon came near its end as Barry Loman, park commissioner, and Harold Brown, retired director of parks and recreation, presented Maxvill with a pair of plaques and announced the dedication of Wilson Park Diamond One as "Dal Maxvill Field."

"I'm truly honored," Maxvill said with his wife, Diane, at his side. "It's quite an honor."

Honored guests at the luncheon, in addition to those already mentioned, included Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sinclair, Mr. Maxvill's parents, Tim Maxvill, Dal's son, Nick Petrillo, city treasurer, Von Dee Cruse, township tax assessor, and Miss Nancy Sanders and John "Jeff" Worthen, park commissioners.

Madison County develops CD block grant program

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

The Madison County Board has authorized the county's Community Development office to file its 1984-85 Annual Community Development Block Grant application with the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

According to the preliminary application now available for public comment, funds for street improvements would be distributed in the following manner: Chouteau Township, $15,301; Nameeki Township, $12,738; and Venice Township, $28,503.

Other capital improvement projects include $211,724 for Granite City sewer improvements, $10,000 for Nameeki Township water improvements, $7,257 for Pontoon Beach Senior Center addition improvements, $15,481 for Venice Township handicapped improvements and $2,500 for Venice Park improvements.

The following housing rehabilitation projects are also included in the block grant application: Chouteau Township, $16,650; Granite City, $80,000; Madison, $33,300; Nameeki Township, $11,037; Pontoon Beach, $19,000; Venice, $28,502; and Venice Township, $19,980.

The application also seeks $71,600 in economic development funds for Madison.

Madison County Community Development officials are soliciting comments on the proposed application. Interested county residents may submit their comments and suggestions to the Madison County Community Development office in Edwardsville.

In addition to the block grant application, the Madison County Board has entered into "comprehensive cooperative agreements" with Granite City and Alton in applying for and expending Housing and Community Development funds. Officials say the agreements are necessary because Granite City and Alton have their own housing authorities which are not under the supervision of the county.

The agreement covers program years 1985, 1986 and 1987.

At the last regular meeting, the Madison County Special Sewer Committee approved a proposal by Irvin C. State Jr., attorney, to amend an ordinance "regulating the use of public and private sewers and drains, private sewage disposal systems, the installation and connection of building sewers, and the discharge of water and wastes into the county sewer systems; and providing penalties for violations thereof, the levying of charges for wastewater services (user charges); and the recovery of capital cost from industrial users (industrial cost recovery)."

Amendments made included several clarifications and corrections to the original ordinance making it more specific and to simplify administration.

Approvals also were made on a letter to accept Brandon Heights sewer extension and the redemption of approximately $100 on a sewer bill charged to Mr. Shah, the owner of the Chain of Rocks Motel. Shah explained that he had lost a large amount of water due to a leak in one of his underground pipes, which was recently repaired.

Business also included a report from Slate concerning judgments against four area residents due to delinquent accounts. An attempt is being made by Gene Futch, sewer superintendent, to find residents who own a home on Margaret Avenue, who also have a delinquent account.

Futch reported his office has received many complaints from a resident of Breckenridge Lane concerning a problem with odor from sewer tanks installed near her home. He explained that everything possible is being done to prevent this problem.

With lack of teaching jobs discouraging students from becoming teachers, a shortage is developing in some areas and may become acute in the late 1980s and early 1990s, a Rand Corp. study said Sunday. Pay levels are cited as being too low, and a growing number of faculty members lack certification.

Savings and loan opens new office

Madison County Federal Savings and Loan has opened its new office at 13 Ginger Creek Meadows in Ginger Creek on Highway 157 south of Edwardsville. The financial institution closed its office in the Cottonwood Mall in Glen Carbon.

"We needed more space to accommodate our expanding customer base and our ever increasing service offering. We also felt a pressing need for drive up facilities and it was impossible to construct a drive up at the Glen Carbon office," said Paul F. Sodko, president of the savings and loan. "Many of our customers reside south of Glen Carbon so that the Ginger Creek site, is one of the most rapid growth areas in Southern Illinois, is ideal," concluded Sodko.

The two story, brick Cape Cod style building is patterned after the savings and loan's new Collinsville office which has been open for a year and a half. It is widely acclaimed in financial circles aesthetically and for its serviceability.

The Ginger Creek office has approximately 3700 square feet of space and two drive up lanes. It is designed with an open office area making all officers and accounts

Library group hosts book sale

The annual Granite City Public Library book sale will be conducted from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday, Aug. 24, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 25, at the Ice Rink at Wilson Park. The sale is being sponsored by Friends of the Library.

Admission is $1 for non-members Friday and free on Saturday.

Officials say the library has recently sorted its collection, making an unusually large number of books available for this year's sale. In addition, donations of books will be accepted from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 23, and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday at the rink. Most of the books will be sold for 25 cents each.

Membership applications for Friends of the Library will be available at the sale. Dues are $3 annually for individuals.

Supporting units to replace state commissions

A new law consolidates the legislative study commission system by creating a panel to oversee General Assembly commission needs and be responsible for reorganization.

The Joint Committee on Legislative Support Services will be comprised of the four legislative leaders from the Senate and House of Representatives. They will handle reorganizing the commission staff and assignments.

In addition, 45 commissions and study panels will be eliminated during fiscal 1985, perhaps saving the state up to $6.6 million.

A consensus emerged from this year's legislative session. Lawmakers, by a wide majority, felt strongly that a change was needed to make state government more responsive and leaner, a change I believe will make it better," Gov. James R. Thompson said.

"Some commissions have grown too large or outlived their purpose. Citizens will be better served by this measure and their tax dollars will be better used."

Under House Bill 3128, existing legislative commissions will be abolished in two phases, this Sept. 30 and on March 31, 1985.

Administrative needs of the legislature will be handled by nine support agencies and commissions, that will be retained and will report to the joint committee.

Those agencies and commissions include the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules, the Economic Energy, Chain of Lakes, Commission on Intergovernmental Cooperation, the Legislative Reference Bureau, the Legislative Information Service, the Legislative Audit Commission and the Legislative Space Needs Commission.

The Legislative Council will be split into two service agencies, the Legislative Printing Unit and the Legislative Research Unit.

Each of the nine will have 12-member governing boards that will be named by the four legislative leaders.

Commissions set to be abolished in September include Agent Orange, Aggregate Mining Problems, Atomic Energy, Chain of Lakes, Cities-Villages and Municipal Problems, County Problems, Criminal Sentencing, Data Information, Election Laws, Ethical Heritage, Gang Crime, Health Assistance Program, High Rise Fire, Land Resources Management, Chain of Lakes Study, Intergovernmental Cooperation, Joint Condominium Study, Judicial Advisory Council and Labor Law Revision.

Development tour set for Thursday

About 40 Illinois real estate developers and bankers will view sites with high potential for development in Madison and St. Clair counties on Thursday.

This will be the second VIP Investors Tour aimed at economic development of the Illinois portion of the metropolitan area. On May 3, St. Louis real estate developers and bankers journeyed across the Mississippi River to view these prime sites.

"We want to give developers and bankers in southwestern Illinois the opportunity to update their knowledge of this growth area," said a spokesman for the sponsors, the Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois, the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association, and several of the economic development organizations of Southwestern Illinois.

At each site on the tour, detailed briefings will be presented, starting with the Tri-City Regional Port District. The tour guide is Dr. Robert Koepke, coordinator of area development at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

About 100 business and civic leaders have been invited to a luncheon for the touring group at the Collinsville Holiday Inn. Speakers will include Carl E. Mathias of Granite City, president of the Leadership Council, and James M. O'Flynn, president of the RGCA.

The program opens with breakfast at the port district in Granite City at 8:15 a.m. The tour will include Alton, Bethalto and the St. Louis Regional Airport there, Edwardsville, Collinsville, Belleville, O'Fallon, Fairview Heights and Bi-State Parks Airport.

In addition to improved sites, the group will see thousands of acres that are available for development. Brochures containing details of the sites, demographics, community profiles, services, investments, retail sales and other documented information will be given to persons on the tour.

The RGCA and Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) are providing overall direction for economic development in this part of Illinois. Spearheading efforts to help business and industry here is privately operated Leadership Council.

Mr. Evans was part of the 339th Regimental Combat Team of the 8th Infantry Division. Following World War II, the 8th liberated many cities from Cassino to Florence to Bologna. Evans says that during the campaigns, the 8th fought the best German divisions Hitler had to throw against them in 14 months of the bitterest fighting of the war.

Now, he says, several hundred veterans of that conflict meet regularly for reunions. Those veterans are known as the Polar Bear Association of World War II. The name is derived from the history of the division, which fought in World War I in North Russia.

SIUE MUSICAL COMPUTER SYSTEM FULLY NETWORKED. The new Alpha SynTour System is now completely operative and on line at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Its technical capabilities allow the teacher to move the student more quickly to the more artistic and creative aspects of mastering music.

Summer research is turned into living music at SIUE

By PETER L. SIMPSON

The delight of discovery playing in the eyes, Janet Scott carefully placed the score for Richard Strauss's "Der Zweikampf" on her music stand. What one scholar calls "an amusing little trifle," was a real find for the research scholar from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

For Professor Scott, a long-neglected piece of music from the John F. Kiburz Collection in the university's Lovejoy Library was about to come to life again. Beside her, Peggy Bumb, her research assistant, piped some deep notes from her bassoon. They would be playing the piece together, going beyond their research responsibilities to fulfill themselves as artists.

MISS SCOTT notes that this year it will be 100 years old. It will receive a full centennial recital this fall.

Professor Scott, a member of the music faculty at the university, has achieved her own discovery as a flutist. She is making accessible to performers and scholars one of the most complete collections of flute piccolo music dating from the mid-19th century to the 1930s.

In carefully culling, editing, and resuscitating the music John F. Kiburz left in the trust of the university, Professor Scott is also paying tribute to her teacher. In the Kiburz name, a rich musical heritage has been bequeathed to St. Louis and to the world.

THE COLLECTION was willed to SIUE by John F. Kiburz Jr., who had taught flute in the department of music until 1970. His father, John F. Kiburz Sr., was a member of the St. Louis Symphony for 41 years, 23 of them as principal flutist.

His son followed the way prepared by the father, as a member of the flute section and principal piccolo with the symphony from 1940 until his death in 1971. Both were highly regarded as soloists.

The Kiburz musical tradition traces back to the grandfather, John Jacob Kiburz, who was a professional flutist in Switzerland before emigrating to St. Louis.

SO THE HEAVY, browned paper bearing the Strauss score was laden with history as Miss Scott and Miss Bumb got ready to play it.

Janet Scott takes it personally. "John F. Kiburz Jr. was my first flute teacher," she remembers. "During my seven years sitting by him in the St. Louis Symphony, we became fast friends."

"As my flute teacher at the master's level, he exposed me to a style of interpretation which has been a base for my present understanding of the performance practice—and the performance traditions he learned from his father."

WHEN HE retired, John F. Kiburz Jr., planned to review the old music in his library.

That task has fallen to Professor Scott, and she approaches it gladly. Armed with a grant from the SIUE Graduate School, she has installed a sophisticated copier. The machine has capabilities for two enlargements and one reduction for the outside sheets on which the old scores are preserved. It also has an automatic eye for pages until with age.

Acquired for this project, Miss Scott hopes the copier will serve music scholars to good effect for years to come as they explore many holdings in Lovejoy Library.

HER MAIN objective this summer is to edit and prepare for performance the rich Kiburz legacy.

However, when she comes on a piece such as the Strauss work for flute and bassoon, she cannot resist the impulse to hear how it sounds.

Miss Bumb shares this enthusiasm. She plays first bassoon for the St. Louis Youth Symphony. While she gets her instrument ready to play, she explains that she is not a veteran of the St. Louis Symphony. Miss Bumb indicates a deeper reason by the way she holds her handsome instrument.

As the Strauss text becomes music, there are frequent interruptions. The pace is picked up, phrases are discussed. The smiles sour a little at times. The trifle is not that "amusing," apparently. "We need a road map," she complains. "The score does not give enough guidance for the instruments."

THE LOOK in their eyes suggests why the piece has been long neglected. Still, Janet Scott is not a bit disappointed. There is plenty of treasure in the Kiburz Collection, even if not all the nuggets are pure gold.

As the grad assistant and her professor go gladly about their work, it's a sure thing nothing will be lost. The ears of music lovers will be filled for many years to come with the texts they bring back to light and life.

GCC's first year of operation is a success story

After its first full year of operation, Granite City Center (GCC) of Belleville Area College isn't content to rest on its laurels. The center is reaching out, building on the solid foundation of its first year.

Dr. Frank Gornick, provost of the center during its first year, is proud of the center's record. "The goals that Dr. Bruce Wissore (BAC President) had set for us, we have met and surpassed, both in terms of credit hours projection, our financial conditions and the acceptance by the community," he said.

AFTER ONE FULL year of operation, some organizational changes are being made at the center. Gornick left the center at the end of July to return to his native California. He will become Dean of Students at Bakersfield College.

Wibur Trimpe is acting as interim provost during the search for a new provost. Ray Moddrell has been named to the newly-created post of Director of Student Development and Counseling. Harold Johnson has been named GCC's first Director of Instruction. Four full-time faculty have also been hired to teach at the center.

"IT'S BEEN A terrific year, very successful, very busy," said Jack Sparks, a secretarial science instructor. "I think this next year will be busier than ever. We've been around for awhile and people know about us."

Patricia Stamps, a data processing instructor, agreed. "I think we will increase our capabilities to offer even more than we do now," she said. "The community has been very receptive and would like to see even more offered here."

Student Johnnie Allen of Cahokia is also enthusiastic about the future of the center. "I've seen changes for the better here," she said. "People aren't saying 'if anyone. They say when. Everyone here is looking toward the future.'"

BECOMING A college education, closer to the residents of the northern portion of the college district is the center's primary goal.

The statistic I am most proud of is that 1,311 people came here who had never attended college before, Gornick said. More than 6,400 students in all attended GCC last year. More than half of those students, 66 percent, came from Granite City.

BAC's presence is not new in Granite City. Mary Brown, secretary at the center, has seen the college's Granite City extension center grow from a day extension center to GCC, center offering a full slate of classes both days and evenings.

"THE DIFFERENCES are amazing," she said. "Now we have so many more students where before we only had a limited number of classes and students. We offered strictly basic classes then, and now we have biology, chemistry and many other classes."

"I could feel the students wanting more classes. When we moved here, we developed. We offer whole degree programs now and we have computer science, then, and biology and chemistry labs, which enable us to offer those classes."

"Last summer, I was put in a corner of this office with a computer screen. Students would stop and I would try to answer all their questions. Now, the student workers and everyone has worked out so well that we can answer most of the questions or guide them to someone who can."

"I'm not at all surprised that we have been such a success. I think we will continue to be so as we enlarge and offer even more."

THE LAW

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Frequently employees of various companies call this office indicating they have been discharged from their place of employment. In almost all cases, these employees have been working under an oral employment agreement with their employer, and there is no written contract of employment. Most of these workers are discharged without cause in that they were never accused of any wrongdoing, poor performance, or incompetence. These discharged employees frequently inquire as to whether they can bring suit against their employer for breach of contract or wrongful termination of employment.

Generally speaking, an employment agreement is formed when the employee promises to render services in exchange for the employer's promise to pay wages. Unless the agreement specifies how long the employment relationship will last, either the employer or the employee may terminate the employment relationship "at will." Illinois Courts have decided that in this situation, an employer can discharge an employee for any reason, or for no reason at all. The employer in these cases does not have to give the employee notice prior to discharge and does not have to give the worker a hearing to indicate why he was discharged.

It should be noted, however, that several exceptions have arisen to this general rule allowing termination "at will." For instance, an employee in Illinois who is not employed for a definite time period can nevertheless not be terminated for firing a worker's compensation claim against his employer. A recent case awarded substantial damages to a worker who was discharged shortly after filing a worker's compensation action. Illinois Courts have also decided that an employee who could otherwise be terminated at will can sue his employer for damages if he was released because he informed law enforcement officials of the criminal activities of one of his co-workers.

In a recent case, Illinois Courts created an additional exception to the general rule. In this case, an employee of an insurance company passed up an attractive offer from a competing company in exchange for a promise from the company president that he could have permanent employment with the existing employer. This was never put in writing, and several years later he was discharged. The Court decided this contract could be enforced by the employee.

In conclusion, it is important to note that the employee in the above examples was working without a written contract. An employee can always bind his employer to an employment relationship with a written agreement.

Consumer agency wants power plant abandoned

The Governor's Office of Consumer Services (GOCs) has filed testimony from consultants before the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) saying that Illinois' proposed Clinton nuclear power plant construction cost could reach $3.4 billion.

Expert testimony filed on behalf of the Village of Buffalo addresses the economic reasonableness of continuing to build Clinton, the only issue now before the commission in Part I of these hearings.

Based on a detailed review of construction records, IP's engineering consulting reports and an on-site audit of key activities at the plant, testimony of MHB Technical Associates of California on behalf of Buffalo indicates Clinton costs will rise substantially above the current estimate.

The MHB testimony identifies likely extra cost items alone of between $400 million and $600 million. This will raise the total capital cost to between $3.25 billion and $3.45 billion, delaying construction through September 1987, Alvin Grandy, director of GOCs, said.

"The ICC is currently unqualified costs were listed in MHB's investigation which mean that an even longer construction schedule and higher costs are projected," Grandy said. "Equally disturbing is the failure of IP to fully implement its own consultants' recommendations, which were made by Ebassco, to aid management in completing Clinton in a timely fashion."

MHB specially concluded that "the ICC has numerous major deficiencies that have the potential to detrimentally affect its ability to complete the construction of Clinton on schedule and within budget."

An additional expert testimony, filed on behalf of the village by Dr. Robert Logan, says that the economic benefit of continuing to build Clinton at this time is zero or negative.

Logan's analysis, based on computer studies by Ray Cahar, of the California Public Utilities Commission, is that cancellation is still economically feasible today.

If Clinton is not canceled, Logan recommends that the ICC, at a minimum, disallow any further expenditures. This would be based on the real principle that ratepayers should be protected from an uneconomical plant, Logan says.

"Given Dr. Logan's estimate that electric rates will rise by at least 10 percent in 1987 when Clinton is completed, consumers are entitled to the protection of a cap on the costs of Clinton," Grandy concluded.
